Rules (There is no right or wrong position):

1. We will have an interactive discussion on the topic, and everyone will have ample time to share his/her views.
2. People will be seated in 3 groups; those in favor and against the topic will be seated on the right & left side respectively while people with no option or neutral will be seated in the center.
3. After the discussion, people will be asked to change their position IF they want to esp. the neutral ones.
4. There is no right or wrong position, and the purpose is just to see how many people come with an open mind and change their position after the discussion. So, let's meet on Tuesday and have some solid discussions in this philosophical debate.
